

November 15, 2014... What a beautiful day! After a wonderful night of dancing at my brother's wedding we arrived at home @ 1:30 in the morning. I entered the bathroom and as I exit I see my husband's shoes. The shoes he wore that night with his suit. Those shoes spoke to me that day. I began to shed tears down my face with great joy. Those were the same shoes my husband wore on July 27, 2014 at his cousin's child's baptism. On that day he became incapable of feeling his toes, incapable of moving his leg, moving, getting in and out of bed, dressing himself and began suffering great pain. He couldn't tolerate sitting, laying down, walking and nothing seemed to ease his pain. I saw the pain he experienced like never before. I struggled to do everything in my power to relieve his pain; but nothing helped. I knew he would be healed. I knew God was watching over him and hearing my prayers. But I still wondered what would come of this situation and when would my husband be healed. We prayed for guidance every night and throughout the day. We knew

God would speak to us soon. As the days went on and my husband layed in bed; he got word of a spinal surgeon by the name of Dr. Brusovanik. We werent ready for surgery and honestly very afraid. After consulting with a good friend; we came to find he too recommended Dr. Brusovanik. Could God be guiding us? Could this be the path he wanted us to take? We began to feel hope. Dr. Brusovanik gave us a sense of confidence and of ease. He made us feel comfortable and exuded great knowledge. I thank God for giving Dr. Brusovanik such great talent and for the excellent recovery my husband has achieved.

Dr. Brusovanik,

Thank you so very much for all your support and for a successful surgery. My husband and I want to send you, your family and your practice many blessings your way. We are very grateful and joyful you came into our lives

Sincerely with Great Respect
